High Drama

PDA Resource Guide

Charleston, SC - Completely unordinary and nontraditional, this coming-of-age party had all the makings of those high-drama, theatrical roller coaster rides you see on My Super Sweet 16. The all-out, carnival-themed production at the Francis Marion Hotel included New York-based alternative rock band and national recording artists Cobra Starship, the world-traveling, visually avant-garde performance experience known as Acroback and a brilliantly designed lighting and sound experience from PDA.

A one-stop shop for all things PDA, this Resource Guide is an essential tool for planning your next event.

"I knew this event would be a great fit for PDA. The client wanted an over-the-top production, with high-quality production values. We delivered exactly that," said PDA Project Manager Todd St. Onge. "A well-orchestrated event requires deliberate organization. We started planning this event eight months out, which gave us ample time to work out all the details."

Event Producer/Coordinator, Laura Kate Harlos had an insider's view, "There were many players involved, from various entertainers, décor & equipment vendors, production companies, etc., so communication and detailed organization was key. Without the creativity and professionalism of PDA, the party would not have been such a great success."
