Production Design Associates responds to the expanding size and complexity of client production requirements

Charleston, SC –PDA is gearing up for another busy event season this fall. Political events, corporate conferences, galas and weddings fill the calendar, and in response PDA has added top of the line staging, rigging and dimming to its extensive production inventory.

Additions include fifty professional Staging Dimensions decks that can create up to a 40'x32' stage with height options from 6" to 56". Applications include wedding receptions, political events, corporate events, runway shows and concerts.

“This highly versatile, portable staging now allows PDA to be a one-stop shop for all staging needs, said Keith Thornhill, PDA Production Manager.
